

From: "Steven Reid" <steven@suttonreid.com>
To: "William Gibbons (wgibbons)" <wgibbons@memphis.edu>
Date: 8/11/2017 11:21:45 AM
Subject: Re: Social media comments

It just struck me bad - like you said, not just for the Strickland part, but for a member of the Commission responding to arrests. There are things I won't post on social media because I've been asked: "is that how Strickland feels? Or Weirich feels...". And I don't even work for them in a public way.

I'm always amazed how some don't realize the job and title they hold requires extra caution on social media.

I think he un-liked the post after you addressed it.

Steven

Sent from my iPhone

> On Aug 11, 2017, at 9:46 AM, William Gibbons (wgibbons) <wgibbons@memphis.edu> wrote:

>

> Harold,

>

> Why would you give a social media "thumbs up" to a ridiculous accusation that Mayor Strickland is behind someone's DV charge?

>

> In addition to the absurdity of the accusation, we should all limit initiating public communications on public safety matters to what the Crime Commission supports! That is our official written policy!

>

> Bill

>

> Sent from my iPhone